AFT™ Light Technology

Advanced Fluorescence Technology

AFT is the next generation of multi-application pulsed light technology. Its breakthrough design converts unused UV light into the optimal spectrum used by each application. This dramatic boost in efficiency also extends the life of the pulsed-light head (up to three times longer than that of other pulsed light systems), significantly lowering the cost of ownership.

Clinical Breakthrough

The unique shape of each AFT pulse limits peak power to only the therapeutic range, precisely heating its intended target with remarkably little or no skin damage or discomfort. An advanced algorithm stabilizes each pulse to ensure repeatable treatments that are safe and effective.

The AFT Advantage

AFT With a single system, superior AFT multi-application capabilities allow the operator to treat:

- Redness associated with the symptoms of rosacea
- Broken capillaries and spider veins
- Brown pigmentation, sun damage and age spots
- Mild to moderate acne
- Unwanted hair

AFT spectra precisely target unwanted blood vessels and melanin, while gently preserving surrounding tissue, leaving skin soft and smooth.

AFT users report progressive improvement over several treatments and outstanding results.

Patients often claim to look naturally younger and healthier without the artificial look of other cosmetic treatments.
